

CPC's Third Habitat House

The homeowner for CPC's third house (1639 N. Calhoun Street) was selected this past week. Andre Alston is a single parent raising his 12 year old daughter, Kennedee. Both Andre and Kennedee are members of New Song Community Church. Andre has a full time job as the receptionist at the New Song Learning Center where Kennedee is enrolled.

Work on the house is progressing well. The construction will be done this week after some brave and brawny CPC men build the back deck for access to the back door. Once the outside contractors complete the plumbing, HVAC, and electrical work, we will be putting in the insulation. There are 5 CPC teams, totaling 30 volunteers.

CPC made a commitment of $25,000 for this house with the $25,000 balance to come from a cosponsor (yet to be identified by the Sandtown Habitat staff). CPC giving to date is close to $13,000. Please designate Sandtown Habitat on any gifts given to CPC for our current house.

1639 North Calhoun Street
Homeowner Andre Alston

Kick Off June 21, 2008----

Dean and Jordan unlock the front door.

Here we go.....

the kitchen

Glimpses of hope across the street

Clothes and a devotional left behind

Our fearless leader

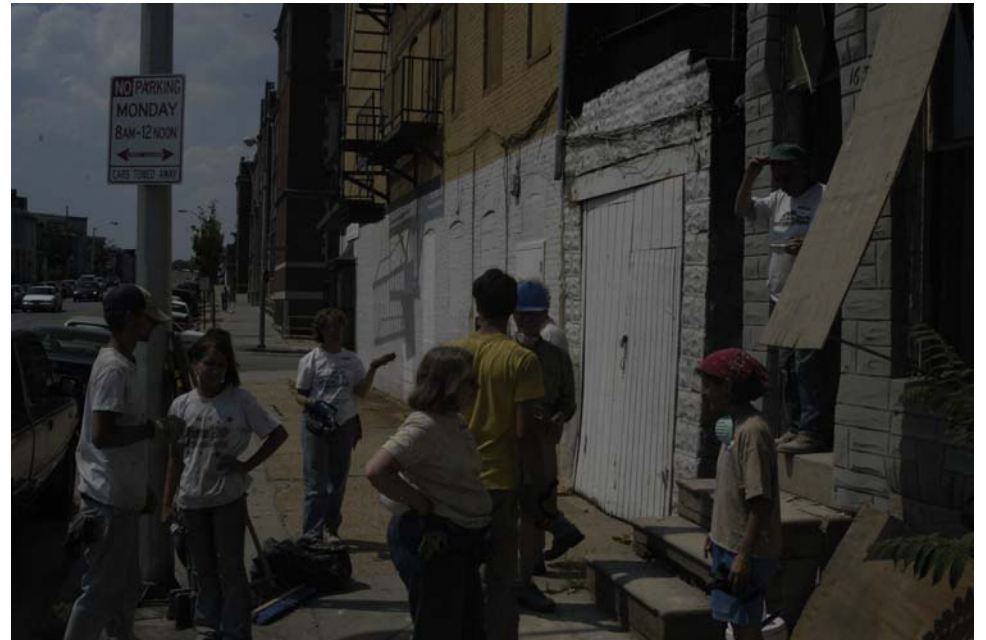

The grand staircase

No wonder we filled
a dumpster on day
1!

The crew, young and old.

We made quick work of those walls!

The back yard

